"Yards And Spars - Stocks and Blocks" Seth Mendell to Speak on Shipbuilding Days

In the great days of whaling the people of New Bedford were well acquainted with Mattapoisett and what the name stood for. New Bedford merchants, ship owners, whaling agents, captains, and sailors ... knew that from the Mattapoisett shipyards came many and many of the finest whaleships that New Bedford's great fleet could boast. — "Shipbuilders of Mattapoisett," Charles S. Mendell, Jr.

The name Mattapoisett and shipbuilding are almost synonymous today, as everything in town seems to be solidly linked to the town's heyday over a century ago when it produced over 300 of the best sailing vessels in southeastern New England. From "Shipyard Park" to streets which have been named after the great shipbuilders — like Barstow, Cannon, and Hammond — the town resonates with the sound of planks being hammered into the side of a hull.

Mattapoisett resident Seth Mendell knows something about this rich history, and he will be sharing his own research and memories with members of the Mattapoisett Historical Museum next Tuesday night during a presentation called "Yards and Spars - Stocks and Blocks." The talk will focus on the shipbuilding days in town and, of course, the work of his father, Charles S. Mendell, Jr.

"You really have to use my father's research if you're going to trace the history of shipbuilding in Mattapoisett," said Mr. Mendell during a recent interview. "My father was a college professor and early in the 1930's he got involved with researching shipbuilding in Mattapoisett. He was born at the turn of the century ... and I think he wanted to capture the flavor of the (late nineteenth century) for future generations."

Indeed, shipbuilding is more than a hobby in the Mendell family. Mr. Mendell's grandfather, Charles Stetson Mendell, was one of the first professional shipbuilders in Mattapoisett circa 1850. Naturally his son — who went on to Harvard and became a college English professor — gained an appreciation for the trade and, together with his friend, Francis Rowland, worked toward preserving the history of the craft by becoming charter members of the Mattapoisett Historical Society and the prime movers in establishing the museum and carriage house.

In 1937 Mr. Mendell's father published "Shipbuilders of Mattapoisett," a painstakingly-researched pamphlet which has become the primary source of information on the town's shipyards and the vessels that were built here.

"My father's research contains the only known list of ships built here," Mr. Mendell said. "The ships were all registered when built ... and I'm sure they were noted in the local newspapers. My father was able to compile all that (peripheral) information in one publication."

The talk planned for next week will include a brief history of shipbuilding in the town, and then Mr. Mendell plans to discuss what it was like to run a full-fledged shipyard in Mattapoisett some 150 years ago. He will also touch upon some of the key reasons why Mattapoisett distinguished itself as one of the outstanding shipbuilding ports in New England.

"Although we didn't produce a great number of ships ... we were certainly recognized as producing some of the finest in southeastern New England," he said. "The quality of (Mattapoisett) ships was known worldwide — and I can safely say that we built better ships than any others at that time."

Mr. Mendell also cited the proximity of the town to several major whaling ports and the nature of the harbor as factors in making Mattapoisett a perfect location for shipbuilding.

"The (Mattapoisett) harbor is large, open, deep and well-situated," he said. "We're accessible to Boston, Nantucket, New Bedford and New York ... and we were able to get an abundant supply of wood — including oak and pine — which was used in building the ships."

The fact that New Bedford was poised to become the Whaling Capitol of the World didn't hurt matters either. "There was certainly a need for merchant ships and whaling vessels after 1812," Mr. Mendell said. "So we had a ready-market in place."

Mr. Mendell's future plans include collecting some of his father's unpublished works and having them printed under the auspices of the Mattapoisett Historical Society. "My father was going to write a full-length book on shipbuilding in Mattapoisett," he said. "I hope to eventually take what (research) he began and put together a pamphlet through the Historical Society."

concerned over the way things have been handled at these meetings, and he wanted to discuss it with the Selectmen.

"It seems to me that these meetings are very unorganized every year," Mr. Butterfield said. "People don't always see eye to eye ... and I just didn't like the way things sounded this year. There were no representatives from the Division of Marine Fisheries (DMF) to confirm the number of herring counted."

Mr. Butterfield explained that the three Herring Inspectors took a vote this year to equally split all monies collected among the three towns. In the past, the monies would be reverted to Mattapoisett, as they are responsible for the maintenance of the Herring Weir. "This year (Marion) is going to see money coming back," he said. "We voted to split everything three ways."

He went on to say that he had collected $114 from the sale of herring and roe last year and, after deducting his personal expenses, he would be turning over $74 to the Town of Mattapoisett. Mr. Butterfield also stressed that he enjoys his job, he only feels that things should be done in a more organized and efficient matter from this point on. "I'm not in this job for the money," he said. "I only want to do what's right for the town and the

The board next met with the residents of Indian Cove to render a final decision on the installation of either hard-wired cable television (via Continental Cablevision) or satellite service, also to be provided by Continental Cablevision's PrimeStar company. After taking a survey of all residents, the majority favored hard-wired cable service over the satellite system.

"I think the (wired) cable is the best way to go," said Selectman Winters. "If we choose to go with the satellite service, we may not be able to get

Some of the residents present expressed their agreement with the board in choosing to opt for the hard-wired cable service. With that, the Board unanimously voted to have Continental Cablevision install their hard-wired service for the residents of Indian Cove.

A copy of the agreement signed between the Town of Marion and John and Katherine Russell was next submitted to the board. The couple agreed to grant the town an easement on lot 96 of their property for the installation of a subsurface sewage lift station. In return for this easement, the Board of Selectmen agreed to assess betterments on only one lot owned by the Russells.

Trudy Kingery, the President of the Marion Art Center, sent a letter of support on behalf of their Board of Directors applauding the restoration and preservation of the Marion Music Hall. "We endorse this project whole-heartedly, and we commend the efforts of the Music Hall Restoration Committee," the letter read.

Town Counsel Thomas P. Crotty next informed the board that the Conservation Commission's position in opposing the design of the Olde Knoll Road extension project has been upheld by Administrative Judge Edna Travis, and has been adopted as a final decision by Acting Commissioner Thomas B. tion work to be done which will block Point Road. Mr. Pickles drafted a response which informed them that they anticipate Point Road being blocked for the entire month of April from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday. The work is scheduled to be completed by April 28, unless the contractor runs into problems.

Chairman Schaefer noted receipt of a letter of resignation from Olive E. Harris, who is stepping down from the Marion Open Space Committee. Ms. Schaefer said she will send a letter of appreciation to Ms. Harris for her past efforts and the board agreed to accept her resignation with regret.

Selectman Winters next said he would like to draw up a set of guidelines for various town boards and committees regarding attendance. "Annual re-appointments are due next month, and several committees have been struggling because members are not attending," he said. "When people take this positions they should fulfill their commitment by attending the meetings."

Selectman Winters said he would prepare a draft for future discussion. There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:00 pm.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

April 10, 1995

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, April 10 at 6:30 pm by Chairman David L. Hughes. Also present were Selectman Lorraine Roy Hawkes, Selectman Michael Murphy, and Administrative Secretary Shirley Ferreira.

After approving the minutes of the April 3 meeting with some corrections from Selectman Hawkes, the board began interview sessions with five candidates for the position of Fire Chief.

The first candidate was Scott Ashworth, the former Chief of Communications. Chairman Hughes noted his main concern in interviewing all candidates was their availability during regular business hours as part of the part-time, 20-hour-a-week position. Mr. Ashworth said he does now work with the New Bedford Fire Department, but his schedule calls for two 10-hour shifts which rotate each week.

"That essentially gives me five days and five nights free each week to work here," he said. "I would expect to carry a pager twenty-four hours a day so people can contact me whenever they need me."

Mr. Ashworth's other experience and qualifications included certification in Fire Fighter I training, certification as an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT), experience with the Rochester Fire Department since 1972, and experience running the Communications Department for the past five years.

The next candidate was Conrad Bernier, who explained he was now retired from the Telephone Company and could devote all his time to the Fire Chief's position. Although Mr. Bernier said he wasn't certified in Fire Fighter 1 training, he is a certified EMT and did major Jeff Morse, who is currently a lieutenant with the Fire Department, was the next person who expressed interest in the Fire Chief position. Mr. Morse said he currently works full-time from 6:00 am to 2:00 pm, but would be available any other time to fulfill his Fire Chief duties. If necessary, he would be able to rearrange his schedule to make any meetings or appointments before 2:00 pm.

Mr. Morse stressed that with the new state regulations passed last year, the first officer from the department on any emergency scene is in charge. "All fire fighters are taught a command system," he said. "So the Fire Chief doesn't necessarily have to be the first one on the scene.

In addition to his past experience with the Rochester Fire Department, Mr. Morse is also Fire Fighter 1 certified, is EMT certified, and is willing to take management courses under the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA).

Department member Daniel Ferreira was next interviewed for the position. Mr. Ferreira noted that there are many issues facing the Rochester Fire Department which haven't been addressed — the biggest of these is the possibility that the state might require the town to hire a full-time Fire Chief.

"I think Rochester needs to plan for that possibility," he said. "We need to have contingency plans in place which will affect the future."

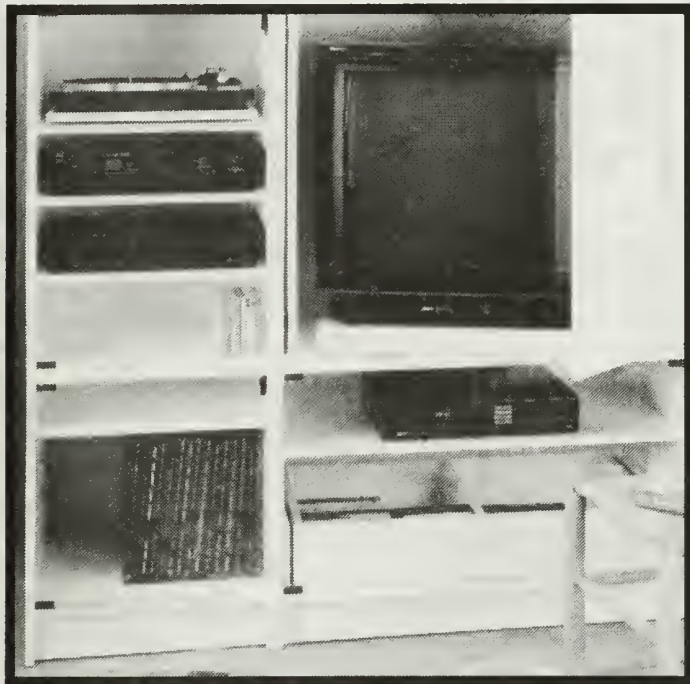

Mr. Ferreira is also both EMT-certified and Fire Fighter 1 certified. He has had some administrative experience with the National Guard, plans to work on updating the department's standard operating procedures, and is willing to work with the other members of the department in this respect.

Lastly, Deputy Fire Chief Ward Benner — who has been filling in as temporary chief — came before the board. Mr. Benner said he is working nights right now and isn't available much during the day, but he is willing to rearrange his schedule for the position. Mr. Benner has past experience with budgeting and payroll as former Civil Defense Director with the town, is EMT-certified, and is experienced in running fire and rescue scenes.

"I've been basically running the Fire Department for the last few weeks," he said. "I have a good relationship with the majority of the fire fighters."

Although Mr. Benner has no previous experience running a department and has taken no management courses, he agreed he would be willing to do so.

Under incoming correspondence for the week, the board received information from SEMASS regarding what has been deemed acceptable waste at their facility. The materials which are restricted include: lead batteries; leaves; whole tires (pre-shredded tires are acceptable); white goods; other yard waste; aluminum containers; metal or glass containers; single polymer plastics; and recyclable paper.

The notice went on to say it is imperative that materials such as gasoline cans, explosives, containers of oil or solvents, paint, metal banding, auto parts, fencing, chains, wire, magnetic tape, and other potentially-explosive material be handled and disposed of in a proper and responsible manner and not delivered to the SEMASS facility.

The Plymouth County Commissioners next sent a total for their retirement fund contribution in the amount of $58,147. The board noted they had over-budgeted that amount by $92, so nothing further was owed.

The Acushnet Board of Selectmen next sent a letter to the board advising that the budget submitted to them from Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School exceeds their net school spending figures. They asked for the Rochester board's opinion on this matter. As Rochester has not yet received the figures from Old Colony, Chairman Hughes said they would hold the matter until that time.

Mark P. Rasmussen, the Issue and Policy Director for the Coalition for Buzzards Bay, sent a request to meet with the Board of Selectmen to discuss many of the issues relating to land assessment and tax relief. The board agreed to set a date in the near future to meet with the Coalition and members of the Conservation Commission and Board of Assessors to discuss setting up a set of guidelines for Conservation Restrictions.

The board next received a request from the Mattapoissett Board of Selectmen to have property located at 26 Wolf Island Road in town inspected, as a letter was sent to them from "A Concerned Citizen" noting that there are approximately 25 junk cars and trucks on the property, along with a number of 55-gallon drums and a portable building.

The Mattapoissett board is concerned about this, as "there may be a substantial risk of contamination of ground water in the Mattapoissett River Valley that is the watershed of municipal wells for the towns of Marion, Mattapoissett, and Fairhaven. The mere possibility of the risk of contamination is of immediate and grave concern to each of our three towns," the letter stated.

An accompanying letter from the Conservation Commission noted that both Regional Conservation Agent Laurell J. Farinon and ConCom Chairman Bruce Maksy inspected the site — which is actually located behind 15 Wolf Island Road and designated as "Roy property" — and found "no evidence of a violation under the Wetlands Protection Act Regulations. There are thirteen large vehicles on the property, a large trailer, and an assortment of marine related materials. However, none of these items were found to be leaking.

Chairman Hughes noted that they will contact Building Inspector Robert Francis and have him inspect the site with Water Commissioners from Mattapoissett, Marion and Fairhaven.

Under Old Business, Selectman Murphy said he had done some research on the purchase of a new police cruiser for the town, and he would like to amend the board's previous vote to place an article on the Town Meeting warrant for $30,103. "I want the Police Department to have this cruiser," he said, "but I also want to do what's in the best interest of the town. I'd like to see a 100,000-mile bumper-to-bumper warranty placed on the vehicle for $4,000, which will cover oil changes and regular maintenance."

Selectman Murphy also wanted to omit several "unnecessary extras" which were included as part of the new purchase — among them: tire chains, a fire extinguisher, a scanner, and a custom paint job. Many of these items can be transferred from an existing cruiser, he said.

With those changes made, the board voted to place the new article amount of $28,579 on the Town Meeting warrant via majority vote, with Selectman Hawkes in opposition.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:50 pm.

met with enthusiasm and encouragement from residents and businesses in town.

The committee has met frequently to consider the pros and cons of restoring, renovating or repairing the building. Restoration is the chosen goal. Historical Preservation experts volunteered their time to educate the committee. Information about funding and restoration grants were studied. Preliminary estimates for the work were discussed. The terms of Ms. Taber's will were reviewed. The sale of Taber Hall, with the proceeds to go toward the Music Hall restoration, is being evaluated.

The Building Committee is studying materials, costs, handicapped accessibility, and code requirements to be sure that the job would be done correctly and economically.

An Auction held last October raised over $7,000 for the Music Hall Fund, and gave people an opportunity to see inside the building. To reawaken memories of past good times, The Friends of the Music Hall held a Music Hall Memories Dance on April 8. Future plans include an Open House from 9:30 am to 12:30 pm on Saturday, April 22, a Las Vegas Night, a Flute Festival culminating with a Jazz Pops Concert in July, and a "Tribute to Our Veterans" concert to be held about the time of the anniversary of the end of World War II.

The (Music Hall) Use Committee is seeing an increase in requests to rent the hall (application forms are available at the Marion Town House, 2 Spring Street, Marion) and the Marion Recreation Department wants to expand its programs when space is available.

The Restoration Committee is working hard to revive the Music Hall so that it may enrich the life in Marion now and for generations to come. We hope to have the voters' support at Town Meeting on April 24 and their "YES" vote on April 28.

Thank you for your attention.

Sincerely,
Christina K. Hingston
Marion Music Hall Restoration Committee

To the Editor:

This year (Mattapoisett) has a chance to say "hello" to Earth Day. Thanks to the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), our town will receive 100 composters to sell at a third of their retail price, or $18.

Why compost? For the same reason we recycle our bottles and cans — to cut down the tonnage of waste we send to the landfill and incinerator; to put back into use that which has been taken from the earth and so conserve our natural resources. The difference is that with composting, we're recycling organic rather than man-made materials. And we control the whole recycling process and get to use the end product, a nutrient-rich new earth great for our garden or our potted plants.

Why a composter? A composter makes the whole process neater, easier, safer and quicker. A few minutes of assembling the composter and you're in business.

So join the rest of our town in increasing the amount of our waste that gets recycled, and profit from this unique opportunity to get a composter at a bargain price. To reserve a bin for your home, call the Mattapoisett Board of Health at 758-4112 and give them your name.

UP, UP, AND AWAY

If you think that the continuing rise in real estate values is a recent phenomenon, think again. Since 1850, the fair market value of real estate, land and improvements has been increasing at a compounded rate of about five percent. To illustrate, if Abe Lincoln's cousin bought some property in 1850 for $1,000, that same property would be worth one million dollars today.

In current times, except for the dip from 1988-92, real estate has appreciated in fifty-eight of the last sixty years. Appreciation is even more dramatic when you realize it is tied to leverage in real estate. That means when you buy property, you usually use other people's money to do so. If you put 20% down ($20,000) on a $100,000 home and it appreciates at 5%, the increase in one year is $5,000. This actually represents an increase of 25% on the cash investment. As returns are compounded over the years of ownership the significant financial rewards of home ownership are apparent.

Call Fisher & Rocha today with any of your Real Estate questions or needs, we're here to help!! 758-6738.

To the Editor:

"Where there is no vision, the people perish." The Proverb wasn't talking about New Bedford, but it makes a point. It is the job, indeed, the obligation of political leaders to look ahead, to appeal to the "better angels of our nature" and for our own sake to nudge us in directions we may not at first wish to go. When it comes to gambling, the vision of our leaders is myopic and the people, while they may not perish, will not flourish.

Our leaders do not seem to see that a decision to bring gambling to New Bedford is an irreversible commitment to nothing but gambling.

Bad enough that gambling kills tourism. For the casino is where it is never day-time or night-time, only play-time and gamblers come to play;

Bad enough that free or cheap alcohol in casinos stimulates alcoholism;

Bad enough that easy credit promotes easy debt and easy debt promotes loan sharking and crime;

Bad enough that easy virtue and drugs follow "easy" money;

Bad enough that a casino is the most efficient device ever created to vacuum money out of the local economy;

Bad enough that our government officials are hooked, perhaps overdosed on gambling revenues;

Bad enough that when the bloom is off the rose,
property values decline;

But worst of all, gambling forecloses the future to anything but gambling.

for a place to locate your company. In addition to lower spirit of community dedicated to industrial growth and a safe community with a low crime rate.

Would you locate in a gambling town? Not likely. Only more gambling comes to a gambling town. What products are made in Las Vegas, Reno, Atlantic City, or Ledyard, Connecticut?

It would seem that leaders with vision would say to gambling interests: "No Dice! It may take some time and work, but we want a future of our own making."

Sippican School Flies Kites

Friday will be Fly Away Day for some of Sippican School's first and sixth graders. Diane Cook's first grade students and David Baker's sixth grade students will be flying kites beginning at 9:00 am. The first graders earned their kites by reading. Each had to read 25 books or 225 minutes during the windy month of March. A bulletin board at the back of the classroom tracked their progress. Each book read was represented by a colored paper kite. All the nineteen children in the class earned kites, which were donated by Brooks Pharmacy.

The first graders are traditionally joined by the sixth ... the bigger students obviously help the smaller. But

Marion Candidates/Warrant Night

On Wednesday, April 19, the League of Women Voters of Marion/Mattapoissett/Rochester will sponsor a Candidates/Warrant Night in the Sippican School cafeteria at 7:00 pm. There is a contest for two seats on the Planning Board. Incumbents Robert Marso and Robert Bennett will be challenged by Annie Rockwell. Each of these contestants will speak for three minutes.

There will then be questions from the floor, and the candidate addressed will be given one minute to respond to each question. At the end of the question period, each candidate will be given one minute for a closing statement. The candidates for the remaining seven town offices will not speak, but will be present to meet the audience informally.

Marion citizens should take this opportunity to ask questions of the candidates and learn, previous to Town Meeting, about the warrant which contains 47 articles.

The warrant articles involving operational overrides are: $65,836 for Sippican School growth and $10,500 for a shared Conservation Agent. Articles involving capital overrides are: $25,000 for town planning requested by the Board of Selectmen, Planning Board, and Growth Management Committee; $28,000 for bike path engineering and planning; and $10,000 for Town House lower level handicap access. Articles involving debt overrides are: $450,000 for repair and renovation of the Music Hall and $125,000 for construction materials for an East Marion Fire Station, with labor to be supplied by the Upper Cape Cod Regional Vocational-Technical High School.

Other warrant items of vital interest to residents are Stoney Run and Edgewater Lane sewer betterments, expansion of the town's waste water treatment facility, and three articles devoted to changes and additions in zoning regulation.

In all, the 1995 Town Meeting warrant is heavy with concerns and deserve serious attention so that Marion citizens may make informed decisions at the Town Meeting, slated for Monday, April 24, and the Town Election, slated for Friday, April 28.

Remember, entrance is at the rear of the school at the end of Park Street which is off Main Street between Route 6 and Spring Street; there is plenty of parking.

Korean War Memorial

In the history of mankind, it is totally beyond the ability of a human being or a country to adequately "thank" those men and women who fought and those who died in the eternal quest for freedom. It would also be a source of great shame and dishonor if a country and its citizens did not attempt to say "thank you" as sincerely as is humanly possible ... "thank you for our freedom, we have not forgotten your love and sacrifice."

In our nation's capitol during the week of July 26 through July 29, there will be a national celebration honoring those Americans who served the cause of freedom during the Korean War. It has been a long time coming and, therefore, will be an event long remembered. Attendance of 500,000 or more is anticipated. Are you going to be there?

Commander Samuel B. Mullin, DAV 13-KMV, has not forgotten The Korean War Veteran. In cooperation with Dr. Mullin and the Korean War Veterans of DAV, Chapter 13, Carlson Travel Network/Prime Travel has arranged an affordable motorcoach tour program which will enable

Mattapoisett Composting Bins

Mattapoisett is going to be able to celebrate Earth Day with one hundred composters! They arrive the end of April at the landfill. Thanks to a Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) grant, they'll be for sale to Mattapoisett households at about a third of their retail price, or $18.

The DEP grant offers a choice between two models. Both are rodent resistant, have opening for efficient aerobic composting and can be easily assembled without tools. They differ primarily in appearance and capacity: the more compact Earth Machine is better-suited to small urban lots, while the Brave New Composter can handle larger volumes of yard waste.

To learn more about composting and composters, look to Cable Channel 8 (Bay 8). To reserve a composter (or two), call the Mattapoisett Board of Health at 758-4112 and give them your name. Purchase will proceed on a first-reserve, first-serve basis. For dates of landfill pickup and pay, check your local newspaper.

Adoptable Animals

For the third week in a row now, "C.J." — a real good-natured husky cross with one blue eye and one brown eye — is still waiting in the dog house for someone to take him home. He is currently being foster cared by a neighbor but desperately needs someone to adopt him. He needs room to run and lots of TLC. C.J. is a good watch dog and loves people and other animals ... a great all-around family pet!

The male Lhasa Apso advertised last week is also still up for grabs, but the beagles and the shepherd have all been adopted.

In the cat category this week, the folks at Animal Umbrella would like to feature a pair of older cats whose owner passed away this week and her last request was to place her kitties in a loving home together. They are a gray and white brother and sister pair, both indoor cats who have never been apart. Other adult offerings this week include:

- An eighteen-pound male declawed tiger (two years old). Please call Trudy at 990-7806 if interested.
- A four-year-old indoor calico. Please call Linda at 992-7499 if interested.
- A short-haired orange tiger male who is young and lovable.

Thanks for Electing the Old Man as Herring Inspector.

 - A long-haired orange (very large) manx male with no tail who needs an indoor, one-cat placement.
 - A long-haired black and white five-year-old male who preferably needs a home with women only.
- If interested in any of these animals, please call one of the local Animal Umbrella representatives (unless otherwise noted):
- Mary Lou at 758-9202
 - Priscilla at 758-2896.

For those of you who sent donations to the Animal Umbrella dog fund a month ago, they would like to inform you that "Rhody" the Ridgeback has successfully undergone heartworm treatment and is now up for adoption. He is well and waiting for a family. He gets along with children, cats, and other dogs.

The beagle whose leg was fractured in five areas has been fixed and adopted. Thanks again to all who made this possible.

The Wanderer would like to remind private pet owners that they can use this free space to find a new home for pets they may have to part with due to a change of living arrangements, new babies, or the like. We'll also gladly help you locate any missing pets in Marion, Mattapoisett or Rochester.

Simply write up a full description of the animal and drop it off at our office (55 County Road, Route 6), or mail it to P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739. Please note: this is only for those who are giving pets away. Any trades or sales must be placed as a paid advertisement.

Mattapoisett - A Cape Cod-Like Town Without Traffic

The seacoast town of Mattapoisett, sandwiched between Marion and Fairhaven, is like a version of "Cape Cod Lite."

Or, as residents put it, it has the flavor of Cape Cod, without the commercialization. In fact, there are no fast-food restaurants in town - no McDonald's or Burger King. If you're looking to eat on the run, the closest you'll get is the take-out counter at Nick's, a family-style restaurant that will package a pizza to go.

More importantly there isn't any Cape-style traffic. No bridges to cross. No stop-and-go traffic in the downtown area.

Thank You St. Jude
For Answering My Prayer
H.T.H.

A PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN
O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God. Immaculate Virgin assist me in my necessity. O Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to secure me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary conceived without sin pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in her hands (3 times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish; it will be granted to you. A.S.F.

ST. JUDE'S NOVENA
May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, help of the hopeless, pray for us. Say this prayer 9 times a day. By the 8th day your prayer will be answered. Say it for 9 days. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. Thank You, St. Jude. K.A.
